RITUALISM.

Debate Upon Ritualistic Observance in the Episcopal Convention.

The Question to be Decided by the Bishops Until Next General Election.

On Tuesday of last week the Committee on Canons in the Episcopal Convention presented the following majority report upon the subject of ritualism:

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that with devout acknowledgement of that gracious presence and assistance of her Divine Master which has been so signally vouchsafed to this church at many a crisis more perilous than the present, enabling her, in the midst of aggressions from without and innumerable shortcomings and extravagances from within, to maintain the integrity of her doctrine and the beauty, decency and dignity of her worship, this Convention attributes this happy result in a great measure, under God, to that spirit of moderation which has hitherto guided the counsels of this Church, and which has rendered her averse to all restrictions of the liberty of her children in things indifferent or unessential, so long as unity can be maintained and spiritual edification promoted in any other way. It is the sense of this Convention, therefore, that the enactment of any canon on the subject of ritual would be unwise and inexpedient at the present time. But it is none the less the sense of this Convention, that the continued maintenance of the decency and order as well as the peace and harmony which, by God's blessing, have always characterized this Church; the avoidance of the dangers of irreverence and lawlessness on the one hand, and of extravagance and superstition on the other; the preservation of doctrine from peril of intentional or unintentional change, and a due regard to the scriptural canon of walking wisely toward them which are without, require from all ministers of this Church, celebrating divine service in churches or other established places of public worship, a conscientious and, so far as may be, steadfast adherence to such vestments, ceremonies, practices and ornaments as, by reason of long continued use or by authority, are recognized as properly belonging to this Church, avoiding errors either by excess or by defect. And further, that in all matters doubtful, for the avoidance of unseemly disputes and contradictory practices, which tend neither to good name nor to godliness, reference should be made to the Ordinary, and no changes should be made against the godly counsel and judgment of the Bishop.

On Wednesday, on motion of William Walsh, of Philadelphia, the special order of the day, the report of the Committee on Canons, respecting Ritualism, was taken up.

The question of the indefinite postponement of the entire subject of Ritualism, offered yesterday afternoon, came up for consideration.

The Rev. Mr. T. C. Pitkin, of Michigan, was opposed to the motion of indefinite postponement. He did not want the elaborate majority and minority reports on Ritualism to be thrust aside. He thought the reputation of the Convention would suffer greatly if the matter was postponed. It would appear to the world as though the Convention was afraid to look the question of Ritualism in the face. He thought it the duty of the Convention to meet this question fairly and squarely. The two reports have been prepared with great care; they have been partially discussed, and are entitled to great respect. He earnestly hoped the matter of Ritualism would be well taken hold of and disposed of according to the temper of the Convention.

The Rev. Edward M. Van Deusen, of New York, took the same view regarding indefinite postponement. He desired to meet the questions presented on the subject of Ritualism. This is not the first time the Episcopal Church has been greatly agitated and convulsed with important questions, and the speaker proceeded to enumerate a number of them, among which was the celebrated controversy regarding the Oxford Bible. He confessed that he was divided in opinion between the two reports mentioned. He was opposed to extreme Ritualism, but did not go the length that the minority report called for.

The Rev. Dr. Lobugh, of Iowa, thought this question of Ritualism was one of the greatest importance. It has created a deep-felt interest both in and out of the Church, and the eyes of the entire country are looking to the action of this Convention on this all-engrossing subject. When it is of such importance as to call for the sitting of a Royal Commission in England to investigate it, it certainly behooves us to take some action in relation to Ritualism. England is meeting the question face to face, and it is shaking the foundations of the Church in the mother country; and shall it be said that the American National Protestant Episcopal Convention was afraid to take Ritualism in hand? He earnestly hoped not, but that both reports of the Committee on Canons would be fully and freely discussed, and the sentiments of this Convention be made known to the world on this all-important matter.

Mr. S. B. Ruggles was opposed to the indefinite postponement, because he thought that the Convention should look closely at some of the points involved in the reports. He alluded to the appointment of Mr. Disraeli, Prime Minister to England, of the Special Commission on Ritualism, and thought that we should be thankful in America that we were able to candidly and freely discuss the subject without State interference. He thought that action should be taken on the following points: The burning of lights, the burning of incense, making the sign of the cross, the celebration of the Lord's Supper, and reverences to the Holy Table.

The Rev. Dr. George C. Shattuck, of Massachusetts, said he was a Massachusetts Puritan, and there was nothing but Puritan blood in his veins, and his ancestors were troubled three hundred years ago with the bugbear of Ritualism. He saw nothing in the question of Ritualism that this Convention need fear to meet, and proceeded to relate some amusing instances of the effects of Ritualism in his section of country. He regarded the excitement about Ritualism as ripples on the sea, which showed there was life and activity in the church, and no possible harm can come to the church by a full discussion of the subject.

Mr. Wm. Welsh thought this was a question of vital importance, but he thought it a dangerous precedent to introduce into the Convention. He believed the church is on the eve of a practical reformation, such as it has never yet seen. With regard to the question of Ritualism, he found no trouble or excitement in his own portion of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Welsh took grounds in favor of giving the working classes more opportunity to worship in the Episcopal Church. He referred to several facts where "shoddy" had stepped into the church, and purchased so many pews at large prices that thirty or forty poor families had to leave, and could not worship at all. He mentioned other abuses in the church indirectly connected with Ritualism, and was himself willing to go any length to grant the privilege to the poor, or working classes, to worship God according to the Episcopal faith.

Rev. Dr. Goodwin, of Philadelphia, spoke of conversations between Episcopal and Presbyterian ministers, as to the introduction of crosses and the like, and the Presbyterian said that if they use them nothing is said about it, for with the Presbyterians, crosses and like symbols do not mean anything, but with Episcopalians they do mean a good deal. The speaker thought the use of them meant symbolizing Rome, and he was against it.

The Rev. Dr. Mahan, of Maryland, thought the proposition is whether the movement is only a ripple on the surface of a pool or a tidal wave over the world. He thought it was the latter, a movement going on everywhere, and of this tidal wave Ritualism is but a part. It arises in all Christian sections, and old affairs are brought back again. There was a time when the sound of an organ was considered an abomination in the church, but now it was an absolute necessity. Gothic architecture was abandoned, but it has been revived. Even the Church of Rome was doing everything to influence the hearts of men. The services, in certain instances, is even tolerated in other languages than Latin. Revivals are adopted. Whatever is in any way useful it is now the policy of the Romish Church to adopt. Dr. Mahan thought the question was whether Christian men should quibble about trifling, insignificant matters, and let the Church of God suffer. He then took up the fourth resolution. He was not in favor of introducing these things, but merely referred to them. With regard to the lights on the altar, is there any symbolism, anything to identify them with the Church of Rome? If there is anything it is the double nature of the character of the Savior of the world, Jesus Christ. [At this point the speaker bowed deeply at the name of Jesus Christ, and said he would always bow to the Throne in his heart.] He spoke about burning incense and desired to know how the use of it could identify the Protestant Episcopal Church with the Church of Rome. It prevailed in ante-Christian times in the East; it is even in the prophetic Church of the Apocalypse. He contended that the Convention has no right to connect it with Rome, with which the Word of God does not conform.

Rev. James Stuart Hanckell of South Carolina, said that this was the first time that the Convention grappled with this momentous question. As one ordained to keep false doctrines out of the church, he is opposed to all these idolatrous abominations. The speaker thought the course of the church of Rome was the very masterpiece of Satan's ingenuity. A tidal wave, perhaps, but it is onward.

A resolution was offered that the further consideration of the subject be postponed, which was voted down. Whereupon Rev. Dr. Littlejohn, of New York, offered the following resolutions, to be acted upon at the proper time:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops be requested to set forth for consideration and adoption by the next general Convention, such additional rubrics in the Book of Common Prayer as in their judgment may be deemed necessary.

Resolved, That in the meanwhile in all matters doubtful, reference should be made to the Ordinary, and no charges should be made against the godly councils of the Bishop.

Resolved, That copies of the majority and minority reports be presented to the House of Bishops.

Adopted after considerable debate.

The Convention then adjourned to Thursday, when an adjournment sine die was had at an early hour.

PRESBYTERIAN.

Installation of Dr. McCosh, President of Princeton College.

PRINCETON, October 27.

Nassau Hall, proud of her past, persevering in her present, and hopeful of her future, had cause to-day to be proud. The inauguration of a new President was made the occasion for the gathering together of the alumni of the college in such numbers as is rarely witnessed at any educational institution. "Commencement Day" may be brilliant; it may attract hundreds of the friends of the scholars about to graduate, but it is only great occasions, such as that of yesterday, that draws from their retirement or from their business men who, in all the walks of literature, science and trade, have reflected credit upon their Alma Mater. The faculty of Princeton College had arranged for the proper inauguration of the new Professor who takes the place of the venerable Dr. Maclean, and the programme for the ceremonies, as published in the Ledger of Monday, were carried out without anything to mar the spirit of the occasion.

Early trains from Philadelphia and New York brought hundreds of ladies and gentlemen, and by eleven o'clock the streets of Princeton were crowded with people wending their way to the church where the inauguration ceremonies took place. Among the visitors to-day were graduates of nearly every class graduated in the long history of the college, and from each class a representative was selected as Marshal in the procession which formed one of the features of the day. As the graduates included men in all walks of life, there were bishops and bankers, lawyers and laymen, clergymen, merchants and traders, in attendance, to testify their remembrance of the old hall. Bishop Claggett, of Maryland; Bishop Hobart, New York; Bishop Meade, Virginia; Bishop Johns, Virginia, and Bishop McIlvain, Ohio, were here, and during the proceedings at the church occupied seats on the platform. From Philadelphia we had Gov. Pollock, Hon. Wm. A. Porter, George H. Stuart and others, including Messrs. John Coebran, James H. Heverin, J. K. McCammon and Wm. Wetherill, who acted as marshals in the procession. The procession was one of the great features of the programme. It was formed before the College Chapel shortly before 12 o'clock, under the command of Gen. Caldwell K. Hall, of the class of 1857.

All the graduates, the Governor of New Jersey and other officials of the State, the students and laureati of the College, joined in the demonstration, which was witnessed by many thousand spectators. Graffulla's Band, from New York, headed the procession, and performed appropriate music, along the short route and in the church. Within the church building the scene was one of very unusual interest. Small, and in no wise adequate to accommodate the large throng that desired to take part in the exercises, every portion was of necessity uncomfortably filled.

Upon the platform sat the members of the Faculty, with Dr. McCosh and Dr. Maclean as the central figures, while around them were arranged the distinguished men who came to grace the occasion. Two venerable men claimed especial attention—James Warren Scott, of New Jersey, and Albert Herring, of New York, both graduates of the class of 1795. Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, the Trustees of the College, and others who were to take part in the ceremonies also occupied places on the platform. The gallery reserved for ladies was crowded; the lower portion of the house, assigned to students and graduates, was also filled, and shortly after twelve o'clock, when the time for the commencement of the exercises arrived, the scene was one of great interest.

All the professors wore their academic gowns, and grouped about their retiring associate and in-coming President, with distinguished divines, from all parts of the country, around them, formed a tableau not often seen at college celebrations or educational exercises.

During the exercises the band and an excellent choir gave some choice selections of music.

Gov. Ward, in a brief address, stated the object of the assemblage, after which an impressive prayer was delivered by Rev. Jonathan F. Stearns, D.D., one of the Trustees. Rev. Charles Hodge, D.D., of the class of 1815, a professor, and one of the Trustees, next delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the Trustees. His remarks were brief, and confined to a warm and cordial greeting of the new Professor, every sentence being received with cheers by the students, as was also a kind and delicate allusion to the retiring President.

Mr. J. Thomas Finley, on behalf of the under graduates, and as representative of the College Society, delivered an address of welcome. It was in Latin, and the abundant applause attested that the task assigned the orator had been well accomplished.

Hon. Wm. C. Alexander, of New York, followed with the congratulatory address to the Alumni and friends of the College. The speaker gave a sketch of the College, marking its progress onward and always upward from the day of its incorporation to the present, referring to the days of the Revolution, the battle of Princeton, the reception of Washington, and other incidents memorable in the history of the institution. From this spot where Washington triumphed and Mercer fell, this College diffuses intelligence throughout the world. Referring to the graduates of the College, Mr. Alexander alluded to the presence of Messrs. Scott and Herring, graduates under the venerable Dr. Witherspoon, and spoke of them as men who graduated before the coming President was born. The allusion to the venerable men was received with tumultuous cheering and the waving of handkerchiefs, and the two veterans were compelled to rise and bow their acknowledgements.

Ex-Gov. Pollock responded in behalf of the Alumni, making an impressive address.

Next came the administration of the oath of office to the President elect by the Chancellor of New Jersey. This was followed by the delivery of the charter and keys of the College to the new President. Dr. Maclean performed this part of the ceremony. Standing by the side of his successor, the old and venerated President, in a trembling voice transferred to the care and keeping of Dr. McCosh the charge which since 1854 has rested upon the retiring officer. There were few dry eyes in the house during this portion of the proceedings.

This closed the ceremony of inauguration, and Prof. McCosh stepped forward to deliver his inaugural address upon "Academic Teaching in Europe." It was an able essay, treating in a most elaborate manner the system of education in Europe and contrasting it with that of this country. While awarding to America the palm of excellence in the way of preparatory schools, he suggested that we need to infuse more life and vigor into our Universities; draw the Alumni closer and make each and every graduate feel after he leaves the college that he has not entirely separated himself from its history. Scholarships and endowments were urged as required in this country, in order to draw the graduates back to their Alma Mater and maintain their interest long after they leave.

The ceremonies closed with prayer and benediction.

In the evening the college grounds were illuminated, and a large number of persons remained in the city until the midnight trains.

FASHIONS.

The Latest New York Styles.

From the New York Evening Post.]

The wide, round collar, so much worn here, is not in vogue in Paris. The dress is finished with a narrow band, and a small linen collar is fashionable there for street wear.

The dresses are full on the back, with puffs and bows a la Watteau, and the pannier style for the streets is much worn. There is a novelty in black lace veils; a wreath in different colors, or in gold, is wrought around the edge. These veils are showy, but it is doubtful if they become general favorites; the prettiest one on exhibition has a wreath of green leaves exquisitely wrought.

The Scotch plaid cloths and poplins are much worn now—the cloths in wraps for carriage, also in dresses and suits. Wiseys and serges make durable suits and are fashionable. Water-proof cloth, for suits to be worn in unpleasant weather, is in great demand. A fine and handsome material for ordinary wear has recently been imported under the name of the English water-proof. It is superior to all other kinds and is in various colors; black or brown making the handsomest suits. Nothing new in silks has yet appeared, though it is reported there will be no novelties next month. Meantime toilettes for grand occasions are of satin and changeable and embroidered silks.

A beautiful evening dress of apricot-colored silk is plainly but tastefully trimmed. The front and side breadths are gored, the back breadths full and trained, and white satin forms the trimmings. The folds of white satin run around the skirt, the first one-fourth of a yard from the bottom. Over the side and front breadths is a short overskirt, trimmed with silk fringe, the tassels of the fringe white, the netting and heading apricot-color. Covering the seams which join the front breadth of this overskirt to the side ones, are upright satin folds, extending from the waist to within three inches of the edge. The ends of these folds are finished with fringe, and, an inch from the end are clasped to the dress by a band of satin with a small bow.

There is a low corsage for full-dress occasions, with a fall of fringe around the neck and sleeves, and a fluting of point lace standing above the fringe. A high bodice is made to be worn at pleasure, and trimmed with white satin folds; fringe crosses the shoulders, falling over the sleeves, and at the hands white satin folds run diagonally. The belt is the same material as the dress, with four narrow folds and a satin bow at the back. The skirt is plain at the back, and caught up in two panniers by bands of satin, in the form of a shell.

A novelty in evening dresses is a changeable silk, of green and red, showing the green more than the red. The front breadth is plain, with narrow folds, of a delicate green, a few inches apart for a half yard, the upper folds running round the entire skirt. Beginning at the seams of the front breadth is a wide flounce around the bottom, set on with a fluting of the same material. Narrow satin folds cover the seems joining the front and side breadths, put on in the form of chain links; the ends joined and edged with fringe, which falls over the upper fold. The back breadths are full and long, but have no panniers. The corsage is in the Pompadour style, quite low in front, with a fluting of lace, and above this point-lace edging, which extends around the neck, and coat sleeves with lace at the hand. There is also a low corsage for full evening dress, with scallops around the neck and sleeves, and a fluting of lace above these scallops.

A dress recently made up for evening is composed of pink silk underskirt, trained, with an overskirt of delicate drab satin, puffed at the back with ribbon and rosettes. A puffing of lace is worn under the low bodice, and the sleeves have a fall of lace below the elbow.

Another is made in the tunic style, with a flounce headed by folds of satin and fringe. The tunic is of black Spanish lace, festooned at the sides with roses and ribbons, of the same shade as the dress. The corsage is high, with coat sleeves, having one puff on top. The sleeves and corsage are partly covered with lace. The edge of the lace tunic and sleeves are trimmed with fringe. Black lace over colored silks and satins will be very fashionable.

A new and fashionable suit is of Sultana red underskirt with three narrow ruffles around the bottom, and overskirt of black silk trimmed with netting and tassel fringe. The overskirt is looped up at the sides with bows of wide ribbon, and has full panniers at the back.

A suit for fall wear consists of blue petticoat with a wide flounce around the bottom, and a black overskirt trimmed with heavy fringe. Over this is worn a small cape reaching to the belt at the back, to which it is attached by a large bow. This cape is narrow on the shoulders, and in front extends in long, narrow lappels; the entire cape is edged with fringe to match the skirt.

A new style is of golden brown poplin, with a flounce ten inches wide around the bottom. The overdress is close-fitting in the back and loose in front, with narrow ruffles set on with a fold of the same, and is festooned at the sides with rosettes of the same. Fancy jacket frills trimmed with ruffles are attached at the back, a la pannier. The sleeves have two puffs at the top.

Something entirely new and elegant is of heavy black silk, with a satin fluting ten inches wide around the bottom of the skirt, and headed by a narrow box-plaiting of satin. The overskirt is open in front; and the back, which is in full panniers, is fulled at the bottom and trimmed with tassel fringe. This overskirt is caught up at the sides by satin bows and ends. There are fancy jacket frills at the belt, and satin fluting to match the skirt set on the sleeves in form of puffs, and wide fringe across the shoulders.

A stylish suit has the petticoat of striped satin, purple and gold color, and made plain. The upper skirt is short, scalloped around the bottom, of a dark shade of purple, and trimmed with fringe with three narrow folds of the striped satin; the sleeves are also trimmed with these narrow folds. The fringe is of purple and gold; and a row falls from the belt. A sash of wide ribbon, the center purple, the edges gold color, completes the suit. A suit of garnet poplin is made with pannier overskirt, with heavy garnet silk fringe and pannier cape. A brown poplin, trimmed with satin of a lighter shade, has the overskirt in form of a short, loose sack, with a small, round cape.

Velvet suits are fashionable and elegant, whether in entire suits or with an underskirt of some contrasting color. A suit worn on the streets recently, was noticeable for elegance. The underskirt was of scarlet poplin, with three narrow ruffles around the bottom; the skirt was of black velvet, finished on the bottom with black silk cord. A basquine of velvet, with short skirt, completed the suit. These suits are in great demand, and do necessarily require costly trimming, as the richness of the material renders them attractive when made plainly.

Several novelties in velvet cloaks are on exhibition. A new style is a half fitting sack with sleeves, the skirt long, reaching to within one fourth of a yard of the bottom of the dress skirt, and trimmed with wide lace. A large round cape falls as low as the length of the sleeve, with wide lace on the edge. A small lace cape falls over the shoulders; there is wide lace at the hand, turning back upon the sleeve; and attached to the back of the belt is wide ribbon bows, with long ends reaching to the length of the sack.

Another novelty in velvet is close fitting, long and open at the back for a half yard from the bottom, each side trimmed with wide lace, the same as finishes the lower end of the sack. A wide strip of black silk made in puffs, by bands of velvet, is set on the back, sloping from belt down the seams, joining the back and side breadths, and in half circular form above the opening at the back. There is a small round cape, trimmed with wide lace and a fall of lace at the back.

The pannier cloak is new and fashionable. It is of velvet with close-fitting bodice; the skirt is open in front and does not meet. Over this space of four inches silk fringe and tassels fall. The skirt in front slopes slightly outward from the waist. The back is full, and gathered at the side seams. Bands of silk joined to the belt and the bottom make the back in four puffs, a la pannier. A bertha of lace is worn with it.

Another new style in velvet, is a tight-fitting basque, short at the sides and in front, and trimmed with wide lace. The back is much longer than the sides, straight across the bottom, making square corners, and the lace extends from the corners to the sides. There are two rows of lace on the back, the second resting on the velvet. Silk ornaments are set on the back above the lace and at the waist. A lace bertha is attached, above which are two rows of ornaments to match those on the skirt, with three tassels at the back falling below the bertha.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 3, 1868

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,

HORATIO SEYMOUR.

For Vice-President,

FRANK P. BLAIR.

ELECTORAL TICKET.

FOR ELECTORS.

FOR THE STATE AT LARGE.

SEVENTH DISTRICT.

EIGHTH DISTRICT.

For Congress, Eighth District,

J. W. LEFTWICH.

ELECTION TICKETS.

Members of the Democratic Party in the Eighth Congressional District will be supplied with Election Tickets, in any quantities, on application to JESSE W. PAGE, Jr., W. R. HUNT, or any other member of the Democratic Committee of the County of Shelby. Headquarters, Stillman Hall.

VOTE.

It is the duty of every registered Democrat in Shelby county to vote. The Conservative or Democrat who fails to-day, classifies himself among the Radical enemies of his race. Vote early, and put yourself in the way of seeing that your friends vote. Especially see to it that the Democratic negroes vote the right ticket.

CUT IT OUT AND VOTE IT.

Cut out the Democratic ticket at the head of our first column and vote it. By doing so you aid in relieving the country of the curse of Radicalism, of the burdens of a too heavy taxation, of the immoral incubus that Radicalism entails, in the shape of outrage, murder, robbery and arson. Vote the straight Democratic ticket and no other.

LEFTWICH.

Read your ticket carefully and see that the name of "J. W. LEFTWICH," for Congress, is on it. The friends of DAVID A. NUNN have made a ticket, a fac simile of ours, only substituting the name of their candidate (NUNN) for that of Dr. LEFTWICH. Therefore it will be necessary for Democrats to read their tickets carefully before voting. We cannot too earnestly press this upon the attention of Democrats.

COLORED DEMOCRATIC VOTERS—REMEMBER THEM.

The Democratic party should procure the names of every colored man who votes the Democratic ticket. They should be published, too, that for all time they may be remembered as among those of a misguided people who were willing the white intelligence of the State should participate in its public affairs. Let us have the names of the Democratic colored voters. We will publish them.

"SHUT UP SHOP."

Leave your desks and counting-rooms, your workshops and places of business, and consecrate this day to the service of Memphis, of Shelby county, of Tennessee and the Union. The help of every man is needed to-day. If you cannot vote yourself, you can secure the votes of others. You cannot count on prosperity or profits, or even claim your property as your own, until the Radicals are defeated. "Shut up shop" and do one day's work for the Democratic party.

WE WANT EVERY VOTE.

Every Democratic vote must be polled to-day. A single vote will decide between civil liberty and military despotism. JEFFERSON was made President by one vote. MORTON was made Governor of Massachusetts by one vote, on a poll of 102,067. HENRY CLAY carried Tennessee by 113 votes in 1844, and HARRISON Pennsylvania by 343 votes and Maine by 310. Every vote counts. Let every vote be polled. There were many persons kept away from the last election. They must vote at this of to-day. If they do, the State is safe beyond all question, and LEFTWICH will be elected.

COST OF DEMOCRATIC AS COMPARED WITH REPUBLICAN RULE.

The total expenditures of the Government of the United States from March 3, 1789, to June 30, 1861,—a period of seventy-two years,—amounted to $1,700,000,000, which included the expenses of one war with England, one war with Mexico, and half a dozen wars with the Indians; and $15,000,000 paid to France for the Louisiana Territory; $5,000,000 to Spain for Florida; $15,000,000 to Mexico for California; and $10,000,000 to Texas for New Mexico—total, $45,000,000 paid for real estate.

The total expenditures of the same government from July 1, 1865, to June 30, 1869—a period of four years—will amount to $1,600,000,000, which included the expenses of no war, the United States being at peace with all the world, and only $7,200,000 paid in gold for the icebergs of Alaska.

The first period included more than fifty years of Democratic rule. The last period included four years of Radical rule, during which the Democracy were represented in the Government only by a minority so small as to be utterly powerless for good or bad. Such is the historical contrast between the Democratic party and the present ruling party of hate and destruction.

THE TICKET!

Democrats! Before you vote to-day, carefully compare the ticket given you to deposit in the ballot-box with that printed at the head of our first column, which is the ticket of the Democratic party.

Don't vote a ticket that does not contain every name you read in this list. The Radicals have prepared a ticket similar to it, only substituting the name of DAVID A. NUNN for that of J. W. LEFTWICH. Beware of it! Vote none but the straight Democratic ticket.

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS.

Democratic headquarters, for to-day, will be located at the rooms of the Central Democratic Club, Stillman Hall, corner of Madison and Second streets. All who want election tickets, or who are in the employ or acting under instructions of the Committee, will report there early this morning. The Committee will be in session all day. Mr. W. R. HUNT, the Chairman, will in person superintend the labors of the Committee, and he expects to be thoroughly supported by his fellow members, and the Democratic citizens of the county generally.

"LET'S HAVE PEACE."

Democrats! Be discreet. Let no words of passion escape you. Preserve your tempers. Do not permit yourselves to be drawn into heated debates with Radicals, at the polls. Challenge votes when you think they are illegally and improperly tendered. That is your right as well as duty. But do not captiously interfere with the rights of others. Preserve the peace. Remember that any disturbance may occasion not only the loss of a seat in Congress for Dr. LEFTWICH, but bloodshed, loss of life, and perhaps loss of property. "Bear and forbear."

TO THE ISRAELITES OF MEMPHIS

Remember, Children of Israel, the insult put upon you by GRANT in his days of power. Remember that he is among the few public men of the United States who are bigoted, ignorant and intolerant; and who would repeat upon you the sufferings your fathers endured in the middle ages, when Europe was steeped in darkness and misery. Remember it is part of GRANT'S record that he was so stupidly intolerant of your race as to force your withdrawal from the limits of his command. If so intolerant as an army commander, what would he be as President? Vote for SEYMOUR and BLAIR, if you would save yourselves from farther insult at his hands and the country from a despotic sway more irksome than that of Poland, and a grinding taxation more severe than the ancient tithings.

GERMANS!

Remember the Fatherland and the political troubles that environ those you have left behind there, and you will be true to Tennessee in her present hour of need, true to the white people of your own race and blood, whose rights are now wantonly assailed by the Radicals. Remember that these Radicals have raised State taxes to rates four times what they used to be before the war; that they have taxed every industry in the land, and have squandered the money of the nation. Remember that the Radicals maintain negro-military Governments throughout the South at an expense of nearly one hundred million dollars a year, and have given ignorance a pre-emption claim to the places of the intelligent white men whose homes have ever been here. Vote to-day for SEYMOUR and BLAIR, and for J. W. LEFTWICH for Congress.

THE MORAL POWER OF MEMPHIS MUST BE EXERTED TO-DAY.

Merchants, bankers and business men, if you will turn out to-day and exert your intelligence and moral power in favor of JOHN W. LEFTWICH and SEYMOUR and BLAIR, you can do more to make life and property secure in Memphis than can be done without you. The good men, the men of property, the men of brains, the men of energy, the men of tact and skill, are the men who to-day should be in the lead of the Democratic voters. Come out of your counting-rooms and help us. Come out and sustain us. Come out and hold up our hands, even unto the going down of the sun. In behalf of your wives and children, your kin folk, your neighbors, your countrymen, come out and vote and assist by your very presence in maintaining the dignity of Memphis. Everything depends upon the property-holders, business men, bankers and merchants.

IRISHMEN,

Remember the words of Father RYAN: "You cannot be an Irish Catholic and an American Radical." You must be either one or the other. Be true to the people among whom Providence has cast your lot. Remember that they are struggling with a military despotism like that which oppresses Irishmen in Ireland. Remember that they have endured and suffered in the cause of liberty, and are yet struggling as the countrymen of EMMETT, of CURRIN, of GRATTAN and of O'CONNELL have struggled in times past. The cause of the people of Tennessee is the cause of every true Irishman. No man who remembers the sorrows of Ireland and what her people to-day suffer, will fail to help by his vote in the freedom of Tennessee. Vote for J. W. LEFTWICH for Congress, no matter what any hired renegade Irishman may say to the contrary. Irishmen! be true to yourselves, and vote the straight Democratic ticket.

ROBBING THE NEGROES.

In another column we publish, upon information furnished us by a colored citizen, well-known in Nashville as well as Memphis as an honest hard-working man—NED ADAMS, the barber—the particulars of a systematic robbery of the colored people by white Radicals, which has for some time been going on under the eyes of the former agent of the Freedman's Bureau, a Col. PALMER, and it is suspected with his connivance. Nothing more disgraceful than this has come to our knowledge in years. So contemptible a gang of white scoundrels should be broken up at once by the police, whose attention we invite to the matter. We invoke the protection of the laws of our city for the poor people who are thus being robbed by white Radicals, who accomplish their purposes under the guise of a Radical friendly feeling for the negroes. This gang must be broken up. PALMER can do much to assist the police to that effect if he wills it.

BARBOUR LEWIS SUES OUT AN INJUNCTION.

At a late hour last evening BARBOUR LEWIS sued out, before Judge HUNTER, of the Criminal Court, an injunction restraining Col. BEAUMONT and Sheriff CURRY from the enforcement of their joint order for the preservation of the peace. The injunction was granted and served upon the Commissioner of Police and Sheriff, whereupon these gentlemen, acting upon competent legal advice, (given, we understand, by Chancellor SMITH,) determined to act in strict accordance with their own instructions to their volunteers and deputies, and prevent to-day the assemblage of armed bodies in sight of the polls. Our citizens may rely upon it that the Metropolitan and Volunteer Police and the Deputies sworn in by the Sheriff, together with the Military, under Gen. GORDON GRANGER, will maintain the peace.

By Telegraph.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 2.—Sixty of the pupils at the Elsbee Military school, at Poughkepsie, were taken sick with cramps and diarrhea on Saturday evening, which caused a panic to prevail for some time. Prompt measures were taken, however, to alleviate their sufferings, and most of them are now well. Something was wrong with a dish of head cheese, which was heartily eaten of by the boys at dinner, and it is undergoing a minute examination.

Marshal Murray yesterday arrested Lewis Luddenbach, the clerk of the Supreme Court of Orange county, W. J. Dickson and Wickham T. Shaw, his deputies, and Samuel E. Dominick and Henry C. Milspaugh, lawyers at Newburry, for being concerned in the issue of false certificates of naturalization. E. L. Coffin, a lawyer, and Barney Lally, a laborer, were arrested at Peekskill for the same offense. A hearing will be had this morning before Commissioner Osborn.

McMahon, charged with murder in Weehawken, who escaped from Constable Lauren, Saturday, was arrested in this city yesterday and taken to Jersey.

A Barcelona, Spain, special, of yesterday, says all the workshops and manufactories of the city have been closed in consequence of the free trade decrees issued by the provisional government.

The workingmen of the city deprived of their work have assembled and are actually threatening to break into the grain stores and bakeries. The military has been called out and several arrests have been made.

Superintendent Kennedy issued an order this morning directing policemen to take the prisoners arrested for fraudulent voting before a United States Commissioner, and not suffer them to appear before any Police Justice or local or State Court. The order was not submitted for approval to the Board of Commissioners. Bosworth and Brewer, it is said, will issue instructions to the force not to obey any order of the Superintendent, unless issued by authority of the Board.

Gov. Fenniton remains here until after the election.

Dwight Townsend, one of the Democratic candidates in the First Congressional District, has withdrawn in favor of the other candidate, Henry D. Reeves.

W. D. Hillier, independent candidate in the Ninth District, has withdrawn in favor of John Savage, who is making a vigorous canvass against Fernando Wood.

Forty-three arrests were made for illegal voting at the Newark election. It is said that quite a number are yet to be arrested, and a number of prominent lawyers at Newburg, for alleged connection with fraudulent naturalization papers.

Henry Ward Beecher preached at Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, yesterday. Before his sermon, he stated that, by a formal vote of the church, baptism was forbidden any child one of whose parents was not a member of the church. He would conform to instructions, although he did not believe in the propriety, and outside churches would administer baptism to any child, one of whose parents was a Christian.

FOREIGN.

MADRID, November 2.—A decree will soon be issued, making a reduction in the numbers of the standing army.

Dissention has broken out among members of the Democratic party.

LONDON, November 2.—The negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama claims will undoubtedly be settled in a few days. England is willing to pay the American claims.

A Madrid special says all the conservatives favor Ferdinand, of Portugal, for King of Spain, while the Democratic clubs have unanimously selected Gen. Prim for Chief of State on condition that he will take the title of President of the United Provinces of Spain.

The British Government declines to recognize the rights claimed by the Hudson Bay Company in Territories between the Canadas and the Pacific coast.

The riots which occurred in Rotterdam Saturday were not of a political character. A quarrel arose between citizens and the police, and the latter were overpowered, when troops were sent from Hague to restore order. Several contests took place in the streets between the troops and people. Three men were killed and about 100 wounded. Up to this time, sixty arrests of parties implicated have been made. The city is now quiet, under guardianship of the troops.

The Standard says a formal dissolution of Parliament will be announced on the eleventh.

Several shocks of earthquake have been distinctly felt recently in the western counties of England and Wales.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA November 2.—Judge Read, in court, nisi prius, to-day, delivered an opinion on the naturalization cases, closing as follows:

"Under this state of facts, I can come to but one conclusion: that the whole issue of naturalization certificates is by a nisi prius branch of the Supreme Court, contrary to an act of the Assembly, and should be rejected at the polls, and I make the following order: And now, November 24, it is ordered that no more aliens be naturalized in this Court."

The city is very quiet this evening. The politicians are engaged in folding tickets for to-morrow, and no meetings are being held. There is a deep feeling prevailing among every class, which will call out a heavy vote, and the polls will be crowded at an early hour.

PHILADELPHIA, November 2.—A card published by Geo. H. Biddle and eight other Democratic members of the bar, expresses the opinion that it is undoubtedly the duty of election officers when a certificate of naturalization is presented having protonaries signatures and seal of the court, to receive such paper, and that at any election the officer rejecting the paper subjects himself to an action of damages and peril of criminal prosecution.

HAVANA.

HAVANA, November 2.—The Government announces that the force of insurgents is rapidly decreasing. Several engagements have taken place wherein the revolutionists were worsted.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, November 2.—Warrants amounting to $2,375,892 50 in coin passed the Treasury Department to-day and were sent to various points to pay the semi-annual interest on registered and coupon five-twenty bonds which fell due on the 1st inst.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

ST. LOUIS, November 2.—Arrived—Olive Branch.

Departed—Marble City, for Memphis. Five and a half feet water to Cairo.

CAIRO, November 2.—Down—Forsyth, 10 p.m.; City of Alton, 8 a.m.; Rubicon, 4 p.m.; Shreve, 4 p.m.

River fell two inches.

LOUISVILLE, November 2.—River rising with three feet six inches in the canal. Weather clear and pleasant.

BOSTON.

BOSTON November 2.—In suit of Merchants' National Bank vs. State National Bank, originating in the State street irregularities, Judge Clifford to-day read the opinion of the Circuit Court. He decided that the act of June, 1864, under which National Banks were created, conferred no authority on Cashiers of banks to certify checks, and that power to certify checks for third parties were not interest on duties appertaining to Cashiers. He also held that by law a State bank which declared duties of Cashiers did not confer any power, or such power, to certify checks of third parties, and in addition there appeared to be no question that the National Banks generally could not certify checks. The Court, in view of these things, directed the jury to give a verdict for the State National Bank. The counsel for the Merchants' Bank immediately filed exceptions, and the case will go to the United States Supreme Court for final adjudication.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, November 2.—This evening's Picayune exposes a swindle in the shape of a circular, evidently designed for the purpose of creating a collision between the whites and blacks to-morrow. It is signed by the "Council of Seven," and its bombastic tone alone proves it a humbug, though the Republican also publishes it, and treats it as genuine, closing its article with the intimation that negroes will not vote to-morrow.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, November 2.—The United States Circuit Court made an order to-day for the sale of the steamer Great Republic, against which quite a number of debts are standing.

Established in 1840.

A LARGE variety of Ornamental Trees, Shrubbery, Evergreens and the finest varieties of Fruit Trees, also, a full assortment of Pot House Plants and Flowers, and everything usually found in a first-class Nursery, which I offer for sale at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

The stock on hand having accumulated for the last few years, it becomes necessary, on account of a want of room, to dispose of the surplus, which I will offer at greatly reduced prices, and cheaper than any Nursery north or south of this point can possibly furnish them.

They are the selections of the late Dr. Wheaton, whose long experience is the best guarantee of their being not only what they are represented to be, but as being peculiarly adapted to the Southern climate—a market for which he devoted his especial study.

In addition to the above, I have a very large stock of Magnolias, which I can offer at greatly reduced prices, and which will be carefully packed for transportation by an experienced gardener.

Catalogues, with prices and any information wanted, will be sent on application to

READ YOUR TICKET!

The Buzzards are Awake---Hawks Watch Them!

In three hours after the tickets to be used by the Democratic and Conservative voters, on Tuesday, were issued on Saturday morning, the Radical committee issued a fac-simile of them, with the exception of placing D. A. Nunn's name for that of Dr. Leftwich. This shows how the rascals are working, and what means they intend to use to deceive voters.

Let every man read his ticket carefully before he votes it, and, above all things, examine the tickets that he gives to his colored voters with the most severe scrutiny. Watch sharp!

A REIGN O TERROR!

Horrible Negro Outrage in Marion County, Arkansas.

Murder and Rapine!

An Armed Band of Negroes Ravage the County!

They Rescue a Prisoner from the Hands of the Officers of the Law!

Midnight Assassination of four Peaceable Negro Democrats!

We learn the following terrible and startling facts from two of our most respectable and responsible citizens, who only yesterday returned from the scene of the horrible outrages that they relate. Were it not for the well known character of our informants, we would be disposed to disbelieve the statements ourselves—even though we know so well the bloodthirsty, devilish character of Radicalism.

On Saturday night last, about nine o'clock, while Judge Gatlin and Mr. Crump were conveying a notorious horse-thief, robber and scalawag, named Jake Thompson, alias Frank Baldwyn, from Kingston to Marion, to lodge him in jail, they were met near the house of a widow named Wilson, by a party of fifteen or twenty armed mounted men, who compelled them to release their prisoner and then rode off with him. The band was disguised, but from their conversation, and the language they used, both gentlemen express a firm conviction that they were negroes. This conviction was strengthened by the manner in which they were mounted and rode.

After being relieved of their prisoner, these gentlemen, Messrs. Gatlin and Crump, went to the house of Mrs. Wilson, where they remained that night. Some three hours afterward, about midnight, several shots were heard in the direction of some negro houses on Mrs. Wilson's place, and a few minutes afterward some negroes came to the house all breathless and terribly frightened, and stated that an armed band of men, on horseback, had come to one of the negro houses and called out the negro inmates. As soon as they came out the mounted men, without saying a word, shot two of the men down, killing them instantly, after which they rode off down the Bay Ferry road.

A Mr. Crabtree, who lives on the road near Mrs. Wilson, saw this band, either as they were going to or coming from Mrs. Wilson's on their errand of murder, and from his description there could be no doubt on the minds Mr. Gatlin and Mr. Crump that they were the same parties that had met them. They were armed, Mr. Crabtree says, with Enfield rifles or Springfield muskets—military guns and accoutrements—and from the words and sentences he heard them address to each other, Mr. Crabtree was confident that they were negroes.

On the following day no traces of the party could be found, and the negroes and whites were alike terribly excited over the circumstances of the preceding night. Nothing was done, however, and that night about 11½ or 12 o'clock, the same party appeared at an adjoining cabin, forced the inmates to come out, and deliberately, without saying a word, shot down two more poor, inoffensive negro men. After committing this horrible crime the party rode off and disappeared. The unfortunate survivors of the cabin last attacked, state positively that the band were negroes and that they were strangers to that part of the country.

Words can convey but a faint idea of the excitement which these deeds of midnight murders and outrages have aroused in the neighborhood of Kingston and Marion. The people are at a loss to account for the acts, and the general opinion prevails that the band who committed them were sent over by the Radicals of Memphis to terrify the negroes into leaving their homes and coming to the city of Memphis.

This, we have reason to know, IS THE FACT, and we are prepared to prove that this band of murderers are the emissaries of W. J. SMITH and his party; and, moreover, that over five hundred negroes have left their homes and fled to this city, where they will be manufactured by the Smith party into voters for their ticket. White men! men of the South! will you allow such a low born, thieving, murdering, cowardly scoundrel—such a beast, such a villainous, such a subordinate of all that is villainous, such a perjurer, such an abortion of infamy and crime, such a dog—that the meanest cur would be ashamed to own relationship with, such, to sum it up, an epitome of all that is vile, base, cowardly, low and infamous, to lord it over and do as he pleases with you and your rights?

To the polls! Guard every avenue! Let no man vote whom you do not know. White or black, challenge him. The scoundrel that dares come flaunting this infamy before you, SCOTCH HIM AS YOU WOULD A RATTLESNAKE.

IMPORTANT ORDER.

Col. Beaumont Calls for Volunteer Patrolmen.

Peace and Good Order will be Preserved on Election Day.

OFFICE OF SUP'T METROPOLITAN POLICE,
MEMPHIS, TENN., October 31, 1868.

Believing that a large portion of the citizens of Shelby county desire a peaceable and quiet election on Tuesday, the 3d proximo, and relying on law and order-loving men of all parties for support in case of need, I have assured Maj.-Gen. Thomas that no additional military force is needed in this county to insure an unobstructed and lawful election.

The numerous polls to be opened in the county render it necessary for me to call for three hundred special patrolmen to assist the regular police force in preserving order, and I hereby request men of character and influence in the community, without regard to party, to come forward and enroll their names on Monday at this office or at either of the station houses. Men who are willing to perform the duty without pay, and for the protection of their own property and families, are preferred, but those claiming it will be allowed the three dollars per day, authorized by law.

The county volunteer police force, now organized, will patrol the various roads leading to Memphis, and promptly arrest all persons coming to the city armed, and the utmost vigilance will be used to detect persons at the polls carrying concealed weapons.

Officers of the police force, whether regular or special, are reminded that it is no part of their duty to act as partizans, or to interfere in any way, to influence the choice of voters in their selection of candidates.

There are violent and indiscreet men who pretend to believe that the police force will be used to defeat their favorite candidate, and have constructed pretexts for resistance and advised the dupes who follow their teachings, to disregard police authority. These incendiary teachers are marked, and will be closely watched, and promptly put down when they attempt to carry their threats into execution.

Drinking Saloons will be closed during the day until the polls are closed.

"Let us have peace."

Smith Pays a Dollar a Head!

A prominent citizen of Memphis is responsible for the following statement, which under his word, we vouch for: Yesterday morning, while about a thousand negroes were gathered in the street, on the steps and in the hall around the registrar's office, an ancient-looking, cotton-covered, mellowed old darkey, came into the hall, and shoving his way through the crowd, got into the office, and asked for Gen. Smith. Our informant, who happened to stand near him, asked him what he wanted with "the General," and the answer was that Smith had promised him a dollar for every nigger that he brought in from Mississippi to register and vote for him. "I've got five here wid me," said ancient Africa, "and wants de money."

Whether he got his money or not, our informant was unable to say, but at the last accounts he was being registered along with his importations, by Sears, the Smith Registrar. Watch out for them when they try to vote!

HAYWOOD TO SHELBY.

The True Democracy of Haywood in Line.

They Send Greeting to the Clubs of Shelby.

ROOMS YOUNG MEN'S DEMOCRAVIC CLUB,
BROWNSVILLE, October 31, 1868.

To the Democratic Clubs of the Eighth Congressional District, Greeting:

Friends of the gallant Leftwich, white men, gentlemen of the Eighth District, are you ready for action? We of Haywood are "in line," every man at his post, and have sworn to do our whole duty, and redeem our country from the thraldom of the miserable wretches who have for three years trampled it under their polluted feet. Weak-kneed cowards, croakers and laggards in the rear! Democrats, MEN, fall in and win a glorious victory, or proudly die with your faces to the foe. Peerless Seymour has taken the field, bearing aloft the victorious banner of true Democracy, and, with the gallant Frank Blair, is pouring red hot vollies into the panic stricken ranks of the enemy from every side. Marshal your hosts, then, and put your shoulders squarely to the wheel; one bold, determined charge and we are once more free.

Remember the foul wrongs and insults heaped upon you! To-day you are disqualified as jurors, disfranchised, taxed and oppressed by an ignorant and ignoble herd, and but slaves in the land of your birth. The negro is arrayed in deadly hostility to his former master, and taught by debased wretches of white parentage to believe that we desire to re-enslave them. These designing villains take advantage of his ignorance to arouse the basest passions and prejudices, and your wives and daughters, mothers and sisters are hourly subjected to insults and outrages too shocking to mention. Radicalism has done all this! Will you not, then, remembering your untold wrongs and injuries, as true Democrats, arise in your wrath and might, pledging your "lives and sacred honor" to wage unceasing, relentless war upon this hideous monstrosity?

Our candidates are worthy of our most earnest and determined efforts. Leftwich has labored faithfully; all have done their part nobly, and it only remains for us to make one great Balaklava charge and the day is ours. To the rescue, then, gentlemen of the Eighth Congressional District! Let every man go to the polls—the enfranchised to vote, the disfranchised to work—and the sun, rising upon the 3d of November, finding our entire strength mustered, presenting a bold, unflinching front, will set upon a victorious and triumphant Democracy.

By order of the club,

W. DYER WESTBROOK,
H. J. IRVINGTON,
A. P. BRIGHT,
JNO. H. FREEMAN,
WM. K. BENNETT,
Committee.

RETURN OF THE CANINE AERONAUT.

He Descends from Mid-Heavens into a Sage Field.

Is Somewhat Shaken up and Demoralized.

But is in Tolerably Good Condition.

His Misfortune Due to Human Trickery and the Demon Alcohol.

We had the satisfaction, yesterday morning, of shaking paws with Mr. Britton's little dog, Joey, who went up the other day as an appendage to Prof. Brooks' big balloon, and came down in a style not anticipated nor approved by himself nor anybody else. He does not appear greatly the worse for his lofty fall from the empyreal regions, but walks as if sore and stiff, and his whole air and manner, while the affair was discussed between his master and others, assumed a decided protest against ballooning and parachuting generally. He is an elegant little fellow, of the terrier persuasion, the tan portion of his markings being of a pronounced foxy hue, his legs and tail attenuated to a degree, his ears cropped to the proper expression of astuteness, and he probably weighs several pounds more or less than many other dogs who have never achieved the glory of an ascent to the skies.

The machine which was intended to graduate his descent so that he should alight as gently as the "foot of time that only treads on flowers," was an umbrella, properly strengthened and arranged to open immediately on being cut loose, by the upward pressure of the atmosphere. It is stated that just before the balloon started a drunken fellow tampered with the parachute, and although requested not to meddle with it, managed, after the Professor had entered the car, to close the spring of the umbrella. The consequence of this act (mean and barbarous, if intentional,) was rather frightful to the canine passenger, who had protested as well as he could against going up at all. When at an altitude of nearly two miles the parachute was cut loose, and down went Joey towards the "infernal center," with the combined speed of rockets, race horses, cannon balls, etc., and was quickly lost to the view of his down-gazing and pitying fellow passengers. Relieved of even this small weight, the air ship shot upwards more than a thousand feet with amazing velocity.

In its descent the parachute swayed to and fro, and whenever it assumed a vertical position it became partially inflated, and but for that unfortunate spring would have spread itself splendidly, and landed Joey as softly as a mother deposits her baby in the cradle. As it was, the resistance afforded by the occasionally half-inflated parachute broke the terrible fall sufficiently to save Joey from being altogether reduced to jelly.

A gentleman passing along the road about a mile and a half from the Park, heard a strange rushing sound, and saw something fall near him, in a sage field by the roadside. Upon examination it proved to be a little dog fastened to an umbrella with a broken handle, and it is supposed that the handle struck first, and thus aided in breaking the shock. The gentleman had heard that it sometimes rained cats and dogs, and looking up to discover what sort of clouds were above him, saw the balloon, looking no bigger than a football and soaring away at a vast hight, like a hawk that had dropped his prey.

Joey was soon afterwards picked up by Mr. A. P. Lowry, who carefully attended to his wants, and yesterday brought him to town and delivered him to his owner, who gladly paid the reward of twenty dollars he had offered.

MORE RASCALITY.

Frauds Upon Colored Soldiers by Radical Officials.

A Colored Citizen has his Life Threatened for Detecting and Defeating the Swindle.

Ned Adams, a colored man, well known in Memphis and Nashville as an upright, honorable man, tells us that he has had his life threatened repeatedly by two Deputy Sheriffs, named Davis and Stearns, for interfering to keep individuals of his own color from being swindled by a firm here known as Moyers & Deadrick, claim agents, for whom these two precious individuals are the runners. The plan by which the negroes were swindled was somewhat as follows: A volunteer would come in for his bounty, with his papers all right, expecting to get his money according to promise from the Bureau Agent, Col. Palmer, (this was a few weeks ago in the "good old times" when Palmer was agent.) Palmer would say that the claim was "all right, but he did not have the money; he knew a gentleman, however, that would lend them some money on the claim, and he would give him a few lines to him." Accordingly a note would be written to Deadrick or his partner, saying that the papers were "O. K.," or something of that sort, on the receipt of which, Deadrick would advance from one-tenth to one-eighth of the face of the claim. When the darky came to collect his money he was told that there was a little bill against him which always amounted to the face of the claim. Instances in plenty are known where fifty, sixty, and even eighty dollars have been charged for the use of ten, in this manner.

Messrs. Moyers & Deadrick have reaped a rich harvest in this way, and it is supposed that Col. Palmer has not been behindhand in getting his share of the profits. The two individuals mentioned—Davis and Stearns—have been the runners and go-betweens in the matter, and they too have managed to "turn a pretty penny." It was for discovering and preventing these rascalities, that Ned Adams has had his life threatened. Is there no way by which such thieving villainies can be prevented, and the men who discover them be protected by law?

Colored men, these—such men as Palmer, Moyers & Dederick—men of their kidney and stripe, are those who pretend to be your friends. Robbers and thieves! Men who rob you of everything that is worth having, and give you in return hypocritical snufflings and false promises of freedom.

Thanks of the Finance Committee for Contributions

The financial committee appointed to represent the Democratic party and solicit subscriptions from our citizens on yesterday called upon as many of them as was possible in the short length of time allotted them, being unable, however, to see many whom they have no doubt would, as a pleasurable duty, contribute their mite in this effort on the part of our people to carry our ticket. Col. W. R. Hunt, the chairman, will remain at the office of the old Commercial Bank, corner of Madison and Main streets, from 9 to 1 o'clock, where all such are requested to call and see him. The committee return their thanks to those who have already so liberally contributed.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Shelby County will have a special meeting at the office of Jesse W. Page, Jr., corner of Main and Madison streets at 9 a.m. All the members of the committee will report promptly. No delay.

THE LAST GRAND RALLY.

Stillman Hall, last night, became historical. It was the scene of the last rally of the Democracy of Memphis before the grand struggle into which we are plunged to-day. The leaders of our cause were all there. The meeting was called to order, with Col. F. A. Tyler, of the Ledger, in the chair.

Dr. Leftwich was the first speaker, and made one of the most powerful appeals that has yet been made against Radicalism in this campaign. He was succeeded by Col. Gantt and Gens. Forrest and Pike. Gen. Forrest made as tasteful and moderate a speech as any one—even the most violent Radical could wish, and Gen. Pike's remarks were, as they always are, to the point, learned, eloquent and true. Col. Cameron was called for at the close of Gen. Pike's remarks, and came forward and said some good and witty things, as did Col. Bullock. The meeting was largely attended by bankers, merchants, and men who do not usually attend such meetings. Altogether it was a glorious close of the canvass; and if we do not win, it will not be because the solid, decent, honorable men of the city were not on our side and did not attend our caucuses.

INJUNCTION.

Barbour Lewis and W. J. Smith Foiled.

Chancellor Smith is for the Preservation of Peace.

He Quashes Hunter's Injunction.

Hunter, of the Criminal Court, granted an injunction yesterday restraining Commissioner Beaumont and Sheriff Curry from the performance of their duty in the preservation of peace to-day, but Chancellor Smith, on application last night, quashed the injunction in the following plain and sensible indorsement, which we commend to the remembrance of our citizens:

The injunction granted above and issued this day, is hereby dissolved for want of equity on the face of the bill.

A court of chancery cannot be used for the purpose of rendering sworn officers of the law, whose duty it is to preserve the peace, powerless, on the ex parte affidavit of one person, that they are about to abuse their powers. Should these officers abuse these powers, as the bill charges they are about to do, they will be responsible to the individuals illegally arrested, and to the laws of the land. The bill is without precedent in this or any other country, as far as my knowledge of the law goes.

It is thoroughly fireproof, and has all the latest improvements. The buggy-room is under a separate roof, and is also fire-proof, and the entire establishment is, without exception, the finest in the city, and Mr. Seligman is prepared to board horses better and cheaper than any other livery stable keeper in the city. The old establishment, No. 68 Union street, corner of Third, will be reserved as a sale stable and for the boarding transient stable. Call and see Joe's two fine establishments. 1m

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, November 2, 1868.

FINANCE.

The money market has been close during the week, under an active demand from cotton men and merchants generally, and increased somewhat by the failure of railroad connections and consequent delay in receiving currency from the East. Our banks report a cheerful state of affairs so far as collections are concerned—no paper going to protest. In the line of deposits all of our banks report a large increase.

Exchange is offered in large quantities, and has frequently been declined on account of the closeness of the money market, but all regular customers are provided for at the usual rates—that is ¼ discount on New Orleans and New York, and ½ discount on points in New England.

Gold in New York opened at 133¼ and closed at 133¼. In this market brokers bought at New York rates, and sold at an advance of 1@2c.

The stock market is quiet, but the feeling generally, in all Southern securities, is stronger. We have no sales to report. City bonds are still firm and in demand, with very light offerings. A few small amounts might be picked up at 52½@53c, but no order could be filled at less than 54c, while large holders decline to sell at all.

City Scrip is firm. Buying at 81@82c, selling at 83@85c.

County Warrants are steady, but the demand is not so active. Buying at 62@63c, selling at 65@67c.

We have no change to report in Police or School scrips.

During the first week in October the disbursements from the Treasury Department were very heavy, and it was thought that there would be considerable increase in the public debt; but the receipts from customs during the month have been very large and will probably make up the deficit, and it is now expected that the statement will show a slight decrease.

The bondholders of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad have taken the necessary legal steps, or will soon do so, to foreclose the mortgage upon the road, and sell it out. It is also understood that the road will be bought and run in the interest of the Michigan Central Railroad.

COTTON.

The market was tending upwards at the opening in Liverpool to-day with Uplands 11@11¼d; Orleans 11¼@11¾d. At noon it was firm; Uplands 11¼d; O leans 11¾d; and at 5 p.m. was firm with quotations unchanged. Sales 15,000 bales.

In New York at noon the demand was moderate and prices firm. Holders were asking for Low Middlings 25½c; Uplands 25½; Orleans 26½c; Low Middlings 26½c. At 2 p.m. the demand was good and prices firm. Uplands 25½@25½c; and at the close there was no change. Sales 2000 bales.

The New Orleans market opened quiet but firm, with a tendency upwards. Middlings 24c; and at 2:30 p.m. was unchanged, with sales of 3000 bales.

Our market was affected by the near approach of election day, and sales were comparatively light. The very wide margin between this and the New York market has seriously inclined many of our cotton men to ship on their own account, and should prices not rally we expect to chronicle several shipments in this way before the end of the week. We quote sales as follows: 6 good ordinary 21½c; 26 and 8 at 21½c; 5 at 21¾c; 21 at 21c; 100 low middlings, 12, 259, 18, 4 93, 76, 18, 89 20, 7 78, 65 and 100, at 22½c; 73, 6 and 5 at 22c; 8, 16 and 19 middlings at 22½c; 14, 25 and 69 at 22¾c; 5 and 10 at 22¼c; 3, 8 and 3, at 22¾c; 3 and 8 strict middlings 23½c; 2 at 24c; 15 and 14 good middlings 24½c; 2 at 25c.

In accordance with the act of February 3, 1868 all cotton imported from foreign countries, from and after the 1st inst., will be exempt from import duty.

By returns to the Bureau of Agriculture for the month of October, it is shown that the area of cotton is somewhat less than last year, the culture and preparation for planting more complete, and labor is more regular and reliable, as a general rule. Early in the season the promise was fine. Serious losses have of late been incurred, however, principally from the depredations of the cotton caterpillar, or army worm, which proved more general and severe in Louisiana than elsewhere. It was very troublesome in portions of Alabama and Mississippi, and somewhat prevalent in the Carolinas and Arkansas. Heavy rains in Tennessee and the Southwest have caused anxiety, but less damage than was expected. Returns indicate a smaller crop, possibly by fifteen or twenty per cent. than last year, but a complete estimate will not be made till the crop is gathered.

TRADE.

Business during the week has been quite active and prices are steady. Several of our merchants are looking for new mess pork and bulk meats, and consequently keep very little of the old cures on hand. The dry goods trade for the week has been satisfactory and prices remain firm at previous quotations. Stocks have been low, owing to a break in the railroad between this point and Louisville, but accessions are again arriving daily.

In New York all grades of domestic and foreign dry goods are dull and depressed, and the best that is hoped is for an increase of trade after election. Prices on nearly all leading staple goods are weak, and the market rules in buyers' favor, while for all other kinds considerable reductions are made to effect sales.

In boots and shoes we have a steady trade to report at unchanged rates for all seasonable goods. The Eastern markets are dull with only a light jobbing trade doing.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a report of the condition of the crops in October. It says the full crop of early summer is not counted in the wheat harvest. The increased area last year, in its effect on the production is nearly neutralized by a small diminution in some of the principal wheat growing States in the yield per acre, so that the increase in the total quantity, as shown by the October returns, is scarcely more than three per cent., and that is obtained mainly from the Pacific coast. The averages from October appear to show a decrease in production in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Texas, the latter having only half a crop. The other States indicate an increase—in most of those east of the Mississippi very slight—in Minnesota, 13 per cent.; Iowa, 6 per cent.; Missouri, 8 per cent.; Nebraska, 13 per cent; Kansas, 23 per cent; California 25 per cent.

Many States in different parts of the country, especially in Maryland and Wisconsin, report a disproportionment in the yield of grain in threshing. The October crop in the Middle and Southern Atlantic States is light. There is not a full average in Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. In other States the product is above the average, the largest increase being 21 per cent. in Nebraska. In Wisconsin the differences are considerable.

Injury to the corn crop is indicated in Indiana, Illinois, and in some parts of Northern Iowa. An estimate of 2-5 of soft corn is made from Southern Indiana, Southern Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Some complaints of immaturity in consequence of the wet weather. There have been accounts from injury from drouths. No general or very severe drouths have been reported. The total product will not be what was hoped in the early part of the season, or what is needed for the country with its rapidly increasing population, but is somewhat larger in quantity than last year, which was a season peculiarly adverse to corn.

Sorghum has been more successful than last year in Southern New England, New Jersey, Delaware, the Gulf States and California.

Potatoes are reported as a full crop. The average crop, with a deficiency of ten per cent in New York and Pennsylvania; from 3 to 7 per cent. in Southern Atlantic States and Tennessee; 20 per cent. in Illinois; 10 per cent. in Iowa; 11 per cent. in Indiana; 15 per cent. in Ohio; 16 per cent. in Michigan; and a quarter or less reduction in other Western States.

Returns from Louisiana indicate an increase of 22 per cent. over last year in sugar cane.

The amount of old wheat on hand is somewhat less than usual throughout, with the exception of the cotton States, which have a higher average than last year. This remain will not apply to Texas, where granaries are uniformly empty. The quantity left over in this is relatively somewhat lower than in the neighboring States.

The stock of beeves in preparation for market is larger than last year West and South of New Jersey, except in Indiana and Illinois, which States constitute an important beef-producing section. The deficiency in Illinois is placed at 2 per cent.—in Indiana at 5 per cent. The condition of the fatterning cattle is almost universally of a superior character, giving promise of better and larger meat supplied than usual.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

MEMPHIS, November 3.—Weather clear and cool. The river at this point, like the Smith wing of the Radical party, is "mighty low down," though unlike that faction it gets no worse. We have a rise to report in the Arkansas. It is a "red" one and comes from the head waters. There is now eight feet water to Little Rock, and rising slowly. White river is falling, with six feet to Augusta and four feet to Jacksonport. At President's Island, below the city, there is but seven feet on the bar. Hence to Cairo six feet is found, and from that point to St. Louis it is estimated at five to five and a half feet. Our dispatches will give the stage of the Ohio at various points.

MISCELLANEOUS.

We regret sincerely to learn that the same short sighted policy which has heretofore broken up our packet lines, and has driven all first class New Orleans packets out of the trade is being adhered to by our shippers. It is not creditable to our merchants as business men that they should be so short-sighted as not to know the advantages accruing to us by keeping up a line of boats from this point to New Orleans, not only during the busy season, but all the year round. The Mississippi, one of the finest boats ever in any trade, which now lies at our landing, will leave here to-morrow without a bale of Memphis cotton, and without any inducement to return to us, because an outside boat not half loaded will come along and take this cotton at less than living rates. The packet comes to us full of people, brings orders to, as well as purchases her stores of, our merchants, and yet she is ignored when she calls upon these very merchants for their freight.

The Des Arc did not get away last night. Her crew being entitled to vote, had no intention of losing that privilege, so they "jumped" the boat, and have thereby prevented her from leaving until to-day at noon. Capt. John Elliott will back her out at that hour for all points on White river. Joe Elliott and Matt Glass are her Secretaries.

Dan Able Walt, Esq., arrived in the city yesterday, and is making his headquarters at Maj. Mart Walt's. A comparative stranger here, he has made many warm friends since his arrival, and bids fair to be a very popular young gentleman. In other words, Mart Walt has a baby at his house.

The Des Arc brought in 421 bales of cotton. She reshipped 123 bales for New Orleans.

Joe Locke, 236½ Main street, has opened a river news agency, and will furnish Memphis dailies, stamped, for sixty cents a dozen.

The Natoma came in with 415 bales of cotton, and backs out again to-day for Friar's Point and all way landings. Capt. Jas. Lee is master and Billy Fields is chief clerk. He is assisted by Messrs. Whitehead and Lee.

Capt. D. DeHaven arrived in this city yesterday on his way to New Orleans, for which point he leaves to-day.

The Agnes arrived yesterday from Pine Bluff with a good trip of cotton. She will lay here to await events.

Capt. Ad. Storm arrived yesterday from St. Louis on the Belle Memphis.

The City of Cairo, Capt. Malin, with Ben Clark in the office, leaves to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. She makes all railroad connections North and East.

The splendid passenger packet Mississippi, Capt. Nat. S. Green, will back out on Wednesday for Vicksburg, the bends and New Orleans. She has large engagements below, but will take all cotton offered here. Our shippers should patronize this packet liberally. S. Cook Creighton and John Langlois are her clerks. Her table has no superior on the river, while her medicinal department presided over by Henry Hellery, of the famous Hellery House of St. Louis, has already become celebrated for its pure and unadulterated stock of beverages.

The elegant U. S. mail packet Liberty, Capt. Jim Rice, will back out to day for White river and all way points. She connects at Devall's Bluff with the train for Little Rock. Matt Harry and Charley Sharpe do the agreeable in her cabins.

The fine steamer Clifton, Capt. Stein, backs out to-day for Cairo, Louisville and Cincinnati. She will go through without delay.

Capt. Tom Bowman has returned from Louisville and reports his new packet nearly ready for duty.

The Julia is reported hard aground at Helena. The Luminary, over due last night, no doubt helped her off.

The J. D. Perry went out of White river for New Orleans with only 400 bales of cotton.

The great leviathan Thompson Dean, Capt Pepper, leaves for New Orleans to-day at 10 a.m.

The W. A. Caldwell, Capt. Haines, leaves for Pine Bluff and all points on the Arkansas on Thursday.

Planters in the bends below must not forget that the Commercial, Capt. Edson, will leave here for Vicksburg on Saturday next as a regular Memphis and Vicksburg weekly packet.

Capt. W. W. Fenton, formerly of the Silver Spray, will have charge of the Swallow in the New Orleans trade this season.

A singular sight is now presented to those who visit Boston harbor. The steamer Star of the South, which was used to carry supplies during the Crimean war, and was also engaged to carry provisions and men for the relief of Gen. Anderson at Fort Sumter, lies high and dry on Moon Island. Alongside of her is the double ender Peoria, a side-wheel steamer built on the Mississippi river six years ago, and employed by the Confederates before Gen. Grant opened the river by his capture of Vicksburg. Both of these vessels were sold in New York by the Government, and purchased by Boston parties, who have taken all the machinery and valuable property from them, and will soon set them on fire and reduce them to ashes, in order to secure the iron.

The Harrisonburg (La.) New Era says of Ouachita river: Bayou Bartholomew is still quite low and no prospect for early shipments of cotton from Point Pleasant. Several of our enterprising citizens have gone to secure suitable steamers for the bayou trade, and we hope to see them in early with suitable through boats. This thing of reshipping is ruinous to our people, and should not be submitted to any longer. The greatest confusion and extortion was the result last year, and the people should unite on one or more good through boats, and refuse to be swindled and annoyed any longer.
